Indianapolis Outwitted Cincinnati in the Festival Line.

Queen City Papers Grumbling at the Eclipse of Their Own Musical Event-Sale of Seats.

The Cincinnati papers are raising a row with the directors of the Musical Festival Association for allowing the Indianapolis association to get in a week ahead with their festival, and with the same principal artists. They say that this arrangement will cause people in southeastern Indiana to attend the Indianapolis festival, instead of that at Cincinnati. The Commercial Gazette says of the matter: "The Hoosiers have accomplished a very clever coup d'etat upon the Buckeyes, or, coming closer to the facts, Indianapolis has outwitted Cincinnati very cleverly. The enterprising management of the Indianapolis May Musical Festival will have the four new soloists that Cincinnati's May Festival will have, and one week in advance. namely, Mme. Emma Eames-Story, Mlle. Antoinette Trebelli, Mr. Ben Davies and Mr. Watkin Mills. The Indianapolis festival commences May 15 and Cincinnati's festival May 22. The contracts were made by a clever Englishman. The May festival directors are much chagrined, but they must grin and bear it. Solicitor-general Maxwell made the contracts, which is a reminder that the great Tilden made a will that was broken. So far as a great array of famous artists and attractive and diversified programmes are concerned, the Indianapolis festival of-fers even greater inducements than that at Cincinnati, although the latter is by far the more pretentious. In addition to Eames, Trebelli, Davies and Mills, who are to sing in Cincinnati, all of whom will appear here, the local entertainments will present as so-loists the great French violinist, Henri Marteau, Miss Emma Juch, Mme Clara Poole-King, Mr. Max Heinrich and others. The sale of seats for the festival continues at the Big Four ticket office, with encouraging results, and the directors are hopeful that the receipts of the festival will exceed its expenses, a condition of affairs which is unprecedented in this city. The unusually attractive programme arranged for next Tuesday night, including the or-atorio of "St. Paul," and solos by Marteau, Trebelli, Davies, Clara Pooie-King and Max Heinrich, promises to make the opening concert of the festival one of the most desirable ones to attend. The programmes to be given at the various matinees are of a more popular character than those for the night concerts, and for this reason there is an unusual demand for seats for them. The sale of seats will be continued at 9 o'clock this morning. There is still a good demand for season tickets.

Appellate Court Decision on the Note

Case-An Insertion.

The promissory note case of Kingan &

Co. against William F. Silvers and James

Silvers, of Lebanon, Ind., was decided by the Appellate Court, yesterday, in favor of the plaintiffs, who were also the appellants.

Kingan & Co. sued the Silvers on a ninety-day note for $388.03, executed Sept. 25, 1888, at Lebanon, and their defense was that W.

H. Nichols, a traveling salesman for Kin-signed by them. This change was made without the knowledge of either party to the suit, and Kingan & Co. claim it should not affect the case, as all they asked was the payment of the original note. They lost the case, however, in the Marion Circuit Court, where defendants' demurrer was sustained, but that decision was yesterday reversed by the Appellate Court in an opin-ion by Judge Lotz. The opinion holds that the change made in the note was not only the verdict.

The Supreme Court yesterday handed down an opinion in the tax case of the Rushville National Bank against Thomas A. Jones, treasurer. The action was brought in the Rush Circuit Court by the appellees against the appellant as treasurer of Rush county to enjoin the collection of a tax. The court overruled a demurrer to the complaint, and the appellant failing and refusing to answer further, the appellees had judgment as prayed in their complaint. The county board assessed the bank on $93,375, and the assessment has never been set aside and no appeal taken from the Board of Review. In August, 1891, the bank officials were summoned before the State board to show why the valuation of their property should not be raised. The officials put in an appearance and objected to any further increase on the ground that no appeal had been taken from the action of the county board, protesting that the State board had no jurisdiction. The State board overruled the objections and increased the valuation $29,000.

It was contended before the court by the appellant that the decree in the case should be reversed, because the State Board of Tax Commissioners had original jurisdiction to fix the value of the property of the appellees for the purpose of taxation and that having so fixed it they are bound by the valuation placed upon it by such board. It was further contended that because the appellants are not the owners of the stock issued by the bank, that for this reason the suit should be prosecuted by the owners of the stock, and not by the banks, and in addition that there is a misjoinder of parties plaintiffs.

Judge Coffey, who wrote the opinion which was concurred in unanimously, held that the appellant contends with much plausibility that Sections 125 and 129 of the statute when construed together confer upon the State board original jurisdiction over all of the property in the State, both real and personal. He stated, however, that in arriving at the intention of the Legislature the act must be construed as a whole. "The act confers original exclusive jurisdiction upon the State board," says the opinion, "over railroad property, but it does not in express terms confer such juris-diction over property generally. To give jurisdiction over the property of the ap-pellees in the case in question it is by reason of the fact that such jurisdiction is conferred by the sections referred to." "We are of the opinion," the judge said, in substance, "that the conclusion in the case of Cummings et al. vs. Strak et al. (34 Northeastern Reporter, 444) was the correct one. The same questions involved in that case are involved in the one before us." The decision held that the State Board of Tax Commissioners has no jurisdiction over the class of property here involved.
"The provision conferring upon the State board the powers possessed by the county board was intended, we think," the opinion continues, "to cenfer such powers in cases where it had jurisdiction either original or appellate, and was not intended to confer-original jurisdiction over all the property in the State." The court fails to agree with the appellant in his second contention. "If the tax is assessed against the banks," it says, "the fact that the stock may be owned by private individuals furnishes no reason why the suit may not be maintained by the banks to enjoin an illegal tax assessed against them. Indeed, if the tax is assessed against the banks they are the only proper parties by whom a suit for that pur-pose could be prosecuted." As to the third contention, it is held there is no community of interest shown. There is no connection between the two appellees. The Rush County National Bank was the other appellee which joined with the Rushville National bank.

The conclusion of the court was that the lower court erred in overruling the demurrer of the appellant to the complaint in this cause, for the reason that It does not show a joint cause of action in the appellees. Judgment was reversed, with directions to the Circuit Court to sustain the demurrer of the appellant.

The New Company Will Pave New Jersey and Wabash Streets-Other Municipal Matters.

The Indiana Bermudez Company yesterday secured two paving contracts, and will hegin at once the erection of a plant. The board summoned those interested in the Indiana Bermudez Company to appear before it yesterday afternoon. After the blds on the Wabash-street improvement were opened, and it was found that the Bermudez company had bid 1 cent under either of the Trinidad companies, a petition was filed by A. Warman and A. B. Gates asking that as the bid was only 1 cent lower the contract be let to the Western Paving and Supply Company. They said they did not care to risk an experiment with Bermudez asphaltum for only 1 cent a foot difference. The city owns one half of the property fronting on this street. The board decided that it could not legally consider such a petition, as it was bound to let the contract to the lowest bidder. The New Jersey-street pavement was then taken up and the legal points considered in connection with the injunction suit which has been filed. The board, on the advice of the city attorney, decided that the contract could be let now, and awarded it to the Indiana Bermudez Company. The street will have a Parkhurst curb.

Mr. Conduitt stated that his company had a contract with the Bermudez asphalt company to supply it with all of the material needed. He said the company would also send a man here to superintend the heating, mixing and laying of the asphalt so as to insure a good pavement. The company will order its plant put in at once, and it is expected that it will be completed within forty days. This will be as soon as the streets can be gotten ready for surfacing.

On the recommendation of City Engineer Brown the board approved the plat of of Indianapolis." A plat of "Scheele's Rur-al-street subdivision" was filed with the board and referred to the city engineer for his report.

The following petitions were filed:
For the opening of Eleventh street to a width of forty feet, from Tennessee to Illinois street. The board granted the petition and ordered the city engineer to pre-pare the necessary plats and papers. For grading and graveling the roadway and sidewalks of Park avenue from Fifteenth to Seventeenth street. The petition was granted. For the construction of cement walks on Bedford avenue, from Central avenue to College avenue. No action was taken. The board ordered the city engineer to prepare papers for paving with brick and curbing with stone the sidewalks of Spring street, from North to Walnut street. M. E. Race was granted permission to pave with cement the sidewalk in front of his lot, northwest corner of Fourteenth and Bellefontaine streets.

The board approved the following vouchers for payment: Albert Thayer, excessive A. Bruner, account of R. W. and C. J. Long and J. E. Ward, Clifford-avenue sewer, $150; Mrs. C. E. Hoffman, excessive assessment, Illinois-street aphalt, $3.20. The board opened the following sealed proposals for street improvements: For paving with cement, to a width of six feet, the south sidewalk of Clyde street, rom Central avenue to College avenue Michael Flaherty, 90 cents; Acme Paving and Contracting Company, 85 cents; Peters & Dunn, 80 cents; H. G. Coldwell & Co., 80 cents; August Buthe, 76 cents; B. Porter & Co., 70 cents; William R. Tall & Son, 671/2 cents. The board awarded the contract to William R. Tall & Son.

Morris-Street Improvement. A committee of property owners from Morris street was before the board yesterday to ask that steps be taken so that Morris street can be improved with brick during this summer. The board instructed the city engineer to prepare the papers for a local sewer, which will have to be built before the street can be improved. The committee will call a meeting of property owners for next Saturday night, at the residence of F. Bergman, West and Morris streets, and endeavor to get the concerted action of interested persons so as to improve the street from East street to the river, instead of from Meridian street, as contemplated by the board.

Fort Wayne Officials Here.

The officials of Fort Wayne are in the city gathering information as to the workings of the various boards here. The party is composed of James W. Simonson, controller; D. N. Hance who represents the Mack Manufacturing Company, of Pittsburg, manufacturers of paving brick, Mr. Simonson spent several hours with Controller Trusler yesterday. The party will return to Fort Wayne this evening, and take back with them copies of all the blanks and records used in the city.

The Illinois-Street Sidewalk. Laakmann & Sherer were before the board again yesterday endeavoring to get released from their contract for the cement sidewalks on Illinois street, from Ohio to North street. They say that to fulfill the contract at the price they bid, which was done under a misapprehension as to the width of the walks, would entail upon them a loss of several hundred dollars. D. W. Grubbs filed a protest against releasing them and the board took the mat-

His plan is to make a macadamized boulevard of Tennesses street from Ohio street to Fall creek. This, it is claimed, would be a substantial pavement for a street that is used as little as Ten-nessee street, provided the Council would prohibit the driving of heavy wagons on it. The members of the Board of Works are not very favorable to such streets. Councilman O'Brien is said to be at the head of a movement to open Illinois street from

AMUSEMENTS.

English's-"The Honeymoon." The Gray Club benefit at English's Opera House last night was a financial and dramatic success. That old classic play, "The Honeymoon," was given by a company of measurably competent people, and the performance met with hearty appreciation from the audience. William Lloyd, on whose ability there is no discount, played Rolando and managed the production. Mr. Lloyd is a good reader, and was somewhat heavy for his support. Earl Atkinson had Duke Aranza, Lorette Carter was Count Montalban, Al Bailey played Balthazar and Bert Hunter took the part of Lopez. Miss Mabel Glenn was pleasing as Pedro. Fred Gambold assumed the role of Jacquez and Avon Breyer that of Lampedo. The leading woman was Miss Nellie Manning, who made a haughty Juliana. Mrs. Al Bailey handled the part of Zamora with much talent. Miss Ada Walker was Volante and miss Kate Noian played the hostess.

Amusement Notes. The final performances of "East Lynne" will be given by Ada Gray and her com-pany at the Park Theater to-day. To-mor-row and Saturday "The New Magdalen" will be presented, with Miss Gray in the principal character.

The concert to be given by the DePauw University Glee Club at English's Opera House, this afternoon, will begin at 2:30. The programme is made up of popular musical selections, and the concert promises to be one of genuine merit.

Indiana-Ave. Building Condemned. The Board of Works yesterday, on recommendation of Building Inspector Pendergast, condemned the brick building owned by Hannah Benson, at 191 Indiana avenue, and ordered it removed in ten days. Some time ago work of construction was begun on a building adjoining this one and in making the excavation for the cellar the wall of this building was left with very little support. Mrs. Benson was informed of the effect the excavation would have on her wall but refused to do anything to strengthen it. During the excavation the wall became cracked and very dangerous.

A Democratic Boomerang. Logansport Journal.

The Indianapolis Sentinel recalls some of the misstatements about the Owen-Nettleton controversy and attempts their use as campaign material. The Sentinel evidently has forgotten that the Niedringhaus letter was written at the dictation of Nettleton. the superior officer; that the labor leaders of the country asked for Mr. Owen's retention and Mr. Nettleton's removal; that department and Mr. Owen retained; that a Democratic Congress investigated the whole matter and commended Mr. Owen's administration in the highest terms. The Sentinel has hurled a veritable boomerang, and it will discover that the records show

He Couldn't Deny.

Detroit Tribune. Colonel Breckinridge's frankness in admitting his faults is like the ingenuousness of the man who was caught with a neighbor's chicken under his coat. He made no denial that the fowl was there, but stoutly asserted that it "flew up dar unbeknownst."
